

Cybersecurity HR Talk with MRW

Quick outline of what we plan to discuss.

What is often an organization's greatest cybersecurity vulnerability? Research shows that it is often its employees. That is because most employees lack adequate cybersecurity training. As a result, employees can open the cyber front door for criminal criminals.

However, with HR's involvement during the development of cybersecurity strategies, this problem becomes less and less.

In our talk, we plan to discuss the best practices surrounding cybersecurity and HR. Our discussion will cover the following:

- Business risk & liability during a cybersecurity attack.
- How to conduct Cybersecurity Awareness Training for employees.
- How to better secure employee data, like W2 forms.
- How to safely onboard and terminate an employee.
- The top cybersecurity policies every company should have in place, and how the HR department can enforce those policies.

At the beginning of our talk, we plan to hand out a Cybersecurity Checklist for HR professionals. We also plan to use PowerPoint for visuals.

At the end of the presentation, we would like to have a Q&A - though, we are also happy to ask questions throughout the discussion.
